

Palani Mission Spring 2022 Updates

Two more of the girls we have been sponsoring to train as community nurses have passed their final examinations with distinction, and are now employed. Ms Elamathy is working in the Palani Mission Hospital, and Ms Soumiya has a placement in her native village.

Employment not only secures the girls' future livelihoods, but also provides a source of income to support their extended families. Revd John said that both the girls and their parents send their love, sincere thanks and gratitude to all of us at Fleet URC who have helped them on their way.

Priya and Leela, our latest students, are busy with their studies and doing well.

Revd John said, "Once again we thank and praise God for you, and thank each one of you for your prayerful, thoughtful and sacrificial contributions. May God richly bless you and the work of your hands."

Greetings from Revd John Abraham, daughter Anugraha, Sheeba John, daughter Deepa, and Deepa's husband Johns.

The roof repair project is underway, though it has been subject to delays because of coronavirus restrictions. The photo below shows the structure of the rafters and PVC sheets that insulate the living areas from the rain and sun, providing a cool, dry environment.

This elderly widow had her roof repaired. She has no children, and lives alone. When Sheeba John asked her how she managed to live in such a leaking house, she replied "Jesus is my umbrella." Sheeba said she was truly humbled by such faith.

This believer is a widow. A few months back her husband died. They have no children. As soon as she got this house she happily opened it for conducting Sunday School in the area.

This believer, Mr Raja, has had a stroke. His wife also has health issues. Although he was unable to go to work, with much difficulty he travelled a long distance in an autorickshaw to attend church services. Now cottage meetings are regularly conducted in his house.

Praise God 🙏
